Bridge Village Hall

Kent in the Wars of the Roses

King Richard III on his white horse in the Battle of Bosworth

Dr Richard Eales will explain that despite Richard III and Shakespeare's Plays, much more was happening in 15th century England and Kent than civil war.

It affected the lives of many people, such as the mayor of Canterbury - executed for picking the wrong side. Richard's talk will look at some of their experiences.

Admission £4 (including seasonal refreshments)
