

Thursday 16 April @ 7.30pm
Talk by Imogen Corrigan
Bridge Village Hall

An ancient wooden 'Misericord' (a bracket on a tip-up chorister's seat.)
Seen in St Botolph's Boston, Lincs; it shows a teacher and his 4 pupils.

A child's life in the middle ages

Where are all the children in medieval art? So often they are missing. Did parents not bond with their children? Nothing could be further from the truth.

Children were cherished and cosseted, but they worked hard alongside their parents and guardians.

This talk covers superstitions about pregnancy and childbirth, through to the trials and tribulations of later childhood and sadly too often an early death.

Admission £4 (including refreshments)
